

Neal Carter is a conservative Republican who believes in the values of the Constitution. Faith, family and a free economy are the founding principles that have made Arizona prosper and take its place as the best state to live and work in. Neal believes in an Arizona where jobs are plentiful and opportunity reigns. As a small business owner, Neal has brought money into the state and expanded the local economy. As a lawyer, Neal has fought for the values enshrined in the Constitution: power to the citizenry, limited government, and the Bill of Rights. As a citizen, Neal embodies the value of giving others a hand up, not a hand out: serving both on local civic committees and volunteering for ministerial outreach programs for the needy. Mr. Carter would be honored to serve all Arizonans as your voice in the State House for common-sense, fiscally-responsible solutions to Arizona's challenges with education, infrastructure, transit, and security.

Neal Carter has been a homeowner in San Tan Valley since 2010. Neal is a lawyer but works for a tech company in the private sector. He's always been extensively involved in local activities, for example: volunteers on a weekly basis at the state prison in Florence; volunteers with and is Council Advocate for the Knights of Columbus in San Tan Valley; serves as General Counsel for the Pinal County Republican Committee, serves as Counsel for the San Tan Valley Advisory Council, founding board member of the Central Arizona Symphony, represented the Coolidge Veterans Commission in a pro bono publico case before Judge Fuller at the Pinal County Superior Court, volunteers for Compassion Queen Creek, to name a few of his local volunteer activities.

Please don't hesitate to contact Neal at:

Queen Creek, AZ 85142