Dear Kent,

The Arizona Gang Investigators Association (AZGIA) is hosting our 16th Annual Conference August 19th through August 22nd, 2024, in Phoenix, Arizona. As you are aware, since its inception in 2007, AZGIA has been a leader in providing resources and coordinating efforts to counteract the negative impact of gangs in Arizona. Through our trainings and outreach programs, we provide law enforcement professionals and local communities throughout the state with resources to combat gang violence and education in intervention and prevention techniques.

In spite of the challenging economic times that have greatly affected the funding of all governmental agencies, our conference continues to draw impressive numbers of attendees. In 2023, our conference drew over 600 attendees from around the state and the country. The dedication of the professionals who attend this annual gathering is best reflected by the fact that many of the attendees in recent years have paid their own way due to lack of funding from their respective agencies. To further this endeavor, AZGIA also scholarships deserving individuals, but for that it needs your support.

As a 501(c)(3) charitable organization, our board of directors generates income by fundraising and by soliciting financial assistance from our law enforcement partners. We are asking you to provide monetary assistance to allow us to scholarship law enforcement, probation, and corrections professionals who want to attend the conference, but do not have the departmental or personal resources for tuition.

In addition to financial support, we hope you can attend our opening ceremonies as a dignitary and instill some words of encouragement among our attendees. We also hope you can attend the general sessions and breakout classes. Your presence is always a welcome one.

We appreciate the continued support you have shown our organization and look forward to hosting you again at this year's conference.

Sincerely,

Drive Test Scanner Methodology and Analysis of the Cellular Network Course

☆☆☆☆☆ 0 Ratings

This three-day course is designed for those in law enforcement using the Rohde & Schwarz Autonomous Mobile Network Scanner. This course reviews the hardware configurations used by the R&S®TSMa6B Drive Test Scanner and provides in-depth instruction on the use of the R&S®NESTOR cellular network analysis software. Additionally, this course will provide instruction on the methodology of conducting scans while driving, walking, and in static locations both indoors and outside.

Students will develop skills to effectively conduct cellular network scans in any environment. They will then apply these skills and techniques to properly evaluate the results with either Accurint® TraX™ or the R&S®NESTOR software. These skills can be applied to confirm the cellular network “fingerprint” viewed in a set of records received from any cellular provider.

Topics Covered Include:

- Determining “best server” areas for specific cell sites and sectors.
- Accurately apply a percentage to alibi’s based on cell phone records and pattern of life.
- Determine the best cell sites and sectors required for any provider when considering a cell site dump.
- Evaluate and test the Accurint TraX horizontal plane sizing.
- Utilize the Rohde & Schwarz horizontal plane while using the R&S®NESTOR software.
- Properly configure the scanner for millimeter waves (mmWaves).
- Methodology for scanning while driving.
- Methodology for conducting scans when GPS is not available.
- Methodology for conducting scans indoors, both while moving and in static locations.
- Troubleshooting common issues while scanning.
- Visualizing the entire cellular network to include all available providers.
- Determine what technology is available in a specific area between 3G, LTE, and 5G by provider.

Materials Needed:

- Laptop and/or note-taking materials
- Google Earth Pro installed
- Microsoft Excel installed
- Microsoft Office

Registration Fee:

- $600.00 per person.
